EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, OCT. 16, 1902

NO. 42

OPERATORS PROPOSE THAT THE PRESIDENT APPOINT COMMISSION.

Will Refer All Questions at Issue Between Companies and Their Employees.

FINDING OF COMMISSION TO SETTLE FOR THREE YEARS.

Proposition Generally Regarded as Emminently Fair. Mitchell Speechless.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—By authority of Mr. Morgan, who with his partner, Mr. Robert Bacon, and Secretary Root, was in conference with President Roosevelt at the temporary White house tonight for an hour and a half, a statement was given out by Secretary Cortelyou, in which the presidents of the coal-carrying railroads and mine operators propose a commission of five persons to adjust the differences and settle the coal strike in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania. The proposition is believed by the administration to be satisfactory to the miners, as it covers the proposition made by President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers' union, with additional conditions, which it is believed the miners will accept. The statement is as follows:

"Mr. Morgan came to Washington with his partner, Mr. Bacon, at the request of the coal companies, who desired that as a matter of courtesy his proposition should be shown to the president before it was made public. Having been laid before the president by Mr. Morgan, it is now given to the press:

"To the public: The managers of the different coal properties comprising the anthracite coal fields wish their position in the present strike to be understood, and, therefore, make the following statement of facts:

"They are in the anthracite regions about seventy-five operating companies and firms, 147,000 miners and workmen (of whom 30,000 are under age), comprising some twenty nationalities and dialects.

"Of these workmen possibly one-half belong to the United Mine Workers' union, of which Mr. John Mitchell is president. That organization was originally formed in the bituminous coal region, and three-fourths of its members are miners of bituminous coal, and only a small number is sold in active competition with anthracite coal. The remaining workmen in the anthracite field either belong to no union whatever, or do not belong to the Mine Workers' union.

"The present strike was declared by the miners' union on the 10th day of May, 1902. Since that time many workmen not belonging to or not willing to follow that organization were working about the mines. From 7,000 to 10,000 are now at work. Many more have been called to work, but have been prevented by a course of violence and intimidation toward those working and toward their families, accompanied by the destruction of properties and fear of death or bodily harm to every man who wished to exercise his right to work.

"A schedule is annexed hereto showing some of the things done to create this reign of terror, and every instance stated can be verified by reference to officers of the law—civil and military—the anthracite region. This violence has continued, and still continues, notwithstanding repeated disavowals by Mr. Mitchell, and it is clear that he either cannot or will not prevent it, and that the rights of the other workmen cannot be protected under the supremacy of the Mine Workers' union.

"The coal companies believe that the wages paid in the coal regions are fair and full, and all that the business in its normal condition has been able to stand, if the capital invested is to have any reasonable return. The coal companies, in fact, several of the companies have become bankrupt and been reorganized several times. Several have never paid dividends, and the dividends of the others have been a small return for the capital invested. It is not, however, the purpose of this statement to discuss this question. The undersigned are not, and never have been unwilling to submit all questions between them and their workmen to any fair tribunal for decision. They are not willing to enter into arbitration with the Miners' union, an organization chiefly composed of men in a rival and competitive interest, and they are not willing to submit to the men which will not seem to the men now working, and all now or hereafter wishing to work, whether they belong to the Miners' union or not, the right and opportunity to work in safety and without personal insult or bodily harm to themselves or their families. For these reasons the arbitrations herefore proposed have been declined.

"It will be remembered that at the conference with Mr. Roosevelt, the miners made the following offer: That we would take up at each colliery any alleged grievances, and in the event of a failure to make satisfactory adjustment, the questions at issue to be submitted to the final decision of the judges of the court of common pleas of the district in which the colliery is located. This offer was made by us in good faith, and we desire here to re-affirm it.

"The coal companies desire that the miners' union, and the coal companies, and the presidents of the coal companies desire to make every effort to that end which does not involve the abandonment of an increased supply, and the presidents of the companies desire to make every effort to that end which does not involve the abandonment of the interests committed to their care and of the men who are working and seeking to work in their mines. This responsibility they must bear and meet as best they can.

"They, therefore, restate their position: That they are not discriminating against the United Mine Workers, but they insist that the miners' union shall not discriminate against or refuse to work with non-union men; that there shall be no restriction or deterioration in quantity or quality of work, and that owing to the varying physical condition of the men in each mine each colliery is a problem by itself.

"We suggest a commission to be appointed by the president of the United States (if he is willing to do so) to make a study to whom shall be referred all questions at issue between the respective companies and their own employees, whether they belong to a union or not, but that decision of the commission shall be accepted by us.

"The commission to be constituted as follows:

"First.—An officer in the engineer corps of either the military or naval service of the United States.

"Second.—An engineer or mining engineer experienced in the mining of coal and other minerals, and not in any way connected with coal mining properties, either anthracite or bituminous.

"Third.—One of the judges of the United States courts of the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

"Fourth.—A man of prominence, eminent as a sociologist.

"Fifth.—A man who, by active participation in mining and selling coal, is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business. It being the understanding that immediately upon the constitution of such commission in order that it may be in a position to make a study of the miners, the miners may instantly, the miners shall return to work and cease all interference with or persecution of any nonunion men who are working or shall hereafter work. The finding of this commission shall fix the date when the same shall be effective, and shall govern the conditions of employment between the respective companies and their employees for a term of at least three years.

"George F. Baer, president Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company; Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company; Temple Iron company; E. B. Thomas, chairman Pennsylvania Coal company; Hilleside Coal & Iron company.

"W. H. Trusdall, president Delaware & Lackawanna Railroad company.

"T. P. Fowler, president Scranton ton Coal company; Elk Hill Coal & Iron company.

"R. M. Oliphant, president Delaware & Hudson company.

"Alfred Waters, president of the Lehigh Valley Coal company."

The note appended to the statement read:

"The schedule referred to in this statement was not brought from New York, as it had not been completed.

Mitchell Declines to Talk.

WHEN the miners' union—When President Mitchell was shown the plain bulletin that the operators had agreed to arbitrate, he refused to make a statement tonight.

HAPPENINGS IN KENTUCKY.

Mrs. Rena Peters, the wealthiest woman in Washington county, died suddenly at her home in Macksburg.

The Logan County bank building has been sold to parties who contemplate starting a national bank at Russellville.

Rev. Sam Jones' revival began at Paducah Wednesday at 7 o'clock p. m. Much good is expected of the meeting.

Heirs of Mrs. Fannie Speed have offered the M. E. church board of education $100,000 in compromise of the bequest of about $200,000.

Judge Tarvin instructed the Kenton county grand jury to investigate the coal situation to ascertain if there is not an unlawful combination to raise prices.

Steven A. Waller, the wealthy distiller at Glasgow, was seriously injured in a runaway accident Wednesday. One arm was broken and he was badly bruised on the head and legs.

Near Hickman Dr. C. R. Utley of Macksburg was found dead by the side of his buggy in the road. A pistol found by the side of the dead physician points either to suicide or murder.

There are five hundred students now matriculated at the Kentucky State College in Lexington, and the chapel is filled to capacity.

"We are at a loss as to what our provision to make for the 200 or 300 that come in each year after Christmas.

At Pembroke, Ky., Lloyd Nelson, a young farmer of Christian county, crazed by drink, went on a rampage near here and brained an aged negro woman with an ax. He then cut and stabbed Joseph Tandy, colored aged seventy, fatally wounding him. After terrorizing several families Nelson was arrested and taken to the Hopkinsville jail to escape a mob of several hundred negroes who threatened to Lynch him.

At Mayville George Benz, a shoemaker, aged thirty, shot and killed Bob Owsley, aged twenty-three, the proprietor of a hotel and saloon. Both were married. Benz was shot twice, but was not seriously wounded. Benz came to Mayville and surrendered to the sheriff. Owsley lived three hours. The men quarreled over a drink. Owsley came from Mt. Carmel a few years ago.

Walter Brown, a liveryman, and Ed Summer, a policeman, of Cadiz, had a street fight in which Brown was shot to death and Summer sustained a broken arm and a bullet wound in the leg. Brown was resisting arrest when he was killed. He had been drinking.

WILL REJECT THE OPERATORS' PROPOSITION.

Scarcely a Hope That John Mitchell Will Permit His Men to Accept.

LEADER RESENTS BEING OVERLOOKED.

Would Have the Operators Make Their Propositions Direct to Him.

MORE TIME WILL BE CONSUMED TO CONSIDER.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 14.—There is a division among the strikers as to the arbitration plan proposed by the presidents of the coal companies, but the indications are very strong that the proposition will be rejected.

Mitchell resents the proposition on the ground that it was not addressed directly to him and his union, and pretends to refer it all to the "position of the miners," but does not say a convention will be called to consider the proposition.

There is still a third view held by miners and that is to refuse to accept the plan offered and make a counter proposition embodying some of the suggestions contained in the operators' offer.

WHAT THE STRIKE IS ABOUT,

The Conditions Prevailing Before It Started and Demands Now
Made by the Strikers.

(New York Tribune.)

The Miner's Work.—He drilled the hole in the coal seam, inserted the powder, fired the blast which knocks down the coal, then rested while his helper—the laborer hired by him, not by the mine operator—loaded the coal into the car.

The Miner's Hours.—In four to six hours he easily knocked down all the coal his helper could pick up in eight hours. He could keep two laborers going constantly if he liked, but the union frowns on this.

The Miner's Pay.—He was paid by the car, averaging about $1 a car.

The usual day's work was six cars. Out of the $6 a day, such gross earnings, he paid his helper $2, and paid for his powder, fuses, wicks, etc.

His net profits ranged from $60 to $100, and he could make twice as much by keeping two laborers busy instead of one.

The Laborer's Lot.—He did the hard work of lifting the coal and loading it into the cars. He was the employee of the miner, not of the mine operator or owner. He had only $2 to the miner's $1. He had to work two years in the mines as a laborer and pass an examination before he could get a miner's license. He was preparing to make a demand upon the miner for a more equitable share of the profits, when the miners precipitated this strike.

Engineer's Pay.—He got from $60 to $80 a month for long hours but light work.

Breaker Boy's Work.—He picked out the impurities from the coal when it was broken up, and got 75 cents a day.

The Striker's Demands.—An increase of 20 percent to miners paid by the car-load or ton. A reduction of 20 percent in the day's work.

As the day's work was six cars, out of the $6 a day, such gross earnings, he paid his helper $2, and paid for his powder, fuses, wicks, etc. His net profits ranged from $60 to $100, and he could make twice as much by keeping two laborers busy instead of one.

All these demands are for the benefit of the employees of the mine operators.

Nothing at all has been said about increasing the wages or shortening the hours of miners' employees, the mine-laborers, who received only $2 out of the miner's $6.

DR. LEWIS PRETTY EAGLE.

Takes Up Himself Another Wife.

Dr. Lewis Pretty Eagle who sojourned with us for a brief space of time a short while ago, was married to Miss Etta Reeves near Morganfield, on Oct. 6, according to the white man's custom, and then had the imposing ceremony performed by Chief Prairie Dog, who stuck feathers in the hair of the bride and groom and danced the can-can around the camp fire on Lee's Hill. We feel impressed that Miss Reeves drove her fowls to an overstocked market and consequently withheld congratulations indefinitely.

Walter Brown, a liveryman, and Ed Summer, a policeman, of Cadiz, had a street fight in which Brown was shot to death and Summer sustained a broken arm and a bullet wound in the leg. Brown was resisting arrest when he was killed. He had been drinking.

What We Saw Sunday.

On our ramblings through the country there are a great many things come to our notice that we fully intend to make a note of in our next issue, but by the time we return to our office they have all passed from our mind. Only once in while we remember one or two of them.

One of the most remarkable of these is as follows: A man, who is a druggist, of so as not to overlook him, especially when we have to meet a crowd of boys and girls starting for home in the evening, after spending the day in the country having a jolly good time, is tired, they are hardly able to travel the distance home, and by chance meet a couple of wheelchairs of whom they ask to borrow their wheel to ride home.

Now we do not know how they all expected ride in two wheelchairs, and when we asked him if either of them was wishing to show partiality to any, they had to decline their services, though they would have liked very much to have accommodated the poor little tired beings.

We will permit our readers to make a guess this time as to who the crowd was, but if we notice it again we think we will have to publish the names. Look out, girls.

Many a summer resort young man would willingly exchange his hunting suit and tennis shoes for a fall overcoat.

FACTS AND FICTION

THE ANNUAL PARODY.

Maud Muller (gentle reader here) is the pretty girl that comes each year. Maude Muller on a summer eve, Plinned back her skirt and tucked each sleeve.

She got the hose upon the lawn, And deftly turned the water on. She sprinkled gaily upon the grass, And smiled on those who chanced to pass.

The Judge came walking down the street, And spied Miss Muller trim and neat. He raised his hat to speak to her; For Maude was young and fair to see;

The Judge was rich as rice could be; Just when he made his graceful bow;

The water did not twist somehow;

It did not snite him on the ear;

It did not swat him in the vest;

And knock his garments galley west;

It did not wash him from the spot;

No, gentle reader, it did not.

Instead Maude turned the water off

When just when he had received the doff.

The Judge mused softly. "Such as is the ideal wife for me."

And Maude mused, "I'll change my name."

By springing this domestic game,"

The Judge proposed; the rest you guess;

Maude Muller lost no time with "Yes."

And often now the Judge will dream Of how the setting sun's last gleam Illumined Maude, with the hose, And Maude, too, dreams of the eve When, with tucked skirt and rolled up sleeve,

She utilized her canning tact; And engineered the lawn hose act.

And posed them in the twilight dim,

And with deft science lauded him.

There will be a total eclipse of the moon on October 16, visible all over North and South America, western portions of Europe and Africa, and in northeast Asia. The eclipse will be a kind of midnight show in North America, as it begins at 11:17 p. m. central time, the east rim of the moon entering the earth's shadow at that time. By 1:50 on the morning of the 17th the shadow will be over. The fifth and last eclipse of the year will be a partial eclipse of the sun on October 31. This eclipse will not be visible in this country.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Henderson Grimmett, of this place, withered with paralytic disease and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife sent him to Dr. C. W. Robinson, of this place, who has been a great success in the treatment of paralytic disease. He has given me hope and encouragement, and I am now able to walk, to eat, to sleep, to have a good appetite, to work, to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a baby, eat like a king, and have a good appetite. They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 5¢ at Bernard Drug Store.

New Lease of Life for an Iowa Postmaster.

Postmaster R. H. Randall, Duluth, Pa., says: "I left the iron business and took up the life of a postmaster. Finally I tried Kodol. I soon knew I had found what I had long looked for. I am better today than I was years ago. I could gain a lease of life. Anyone can make an affidavit to the truth of this statement." Kodol digests your food. To the Non-Subscribers.

Of you of this earth, we have not yet entered our portals and surrendered your dollars! Why do yearry, dear brother? Know ye not that we must needs have many ducats wherewith to harter for raiment, provisions and cordwood? Multitudes have come up and been hypnotized, therefore put not off the day of thine own contribution. Our gates are encompassed round about by those who advertise in papers, by those who have things printed by them who are not of subscriber, but the world is large like the elephant, brother, and we want all of our wandering boys. Come, have your names enrolled on the Book of Life and go to your homes in peace. Spread the glad tidings, even from Guthrie unto Sacramento. He that doth not subscribe shall be likened unto the foolish man that knoweth but little. "Verily, he shall gnaw a file and flee unto the mountains of Hesidian, where the lion roareth not and the whangdoodle mourneth for her young."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, either in the outer or in the deafness, and this is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or perfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. The tube, the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine out of ten are caused by Cataract, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the membranes.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by cataract) that cannot be cured by Hill's Ear Cure. Send us the entire fees free.

Cautions!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable the only remedy universally known to a remedy for the cure of a remedy, you have had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1898 for the cure and treatment of Consumption, Coughs, Colds, and Lung trouble, without losing its great popularity all these years, will you be thankful to the manufacturer to whom you owe your Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good, but not so good as the simple Foley's Cough Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the United States.

There are many things disagreeable about the sun with the thermometer standing at 100 degrees in the shade, but there is nothing more disagreeable than to contract a sunstroke. Sunstroke is an overheat, or over exertion; symptoms of such cases are too well known to make space for practice. The sun does not heat the body, it is the blood that is heated. These complaints are easily cured by Hill's Headache Tablets. They will cure headache in a short time, but do not forget you are very sick. Price 25c.

For Tasteful Children.

During the summer months when children are teething, it always seems that nothing will permanently benefit suffering little babies, and it was not so recent years that such suffering children were successfully combated without the aid of the best medical skill; the following is a copy of a letter from Dr. W. The Worst Form.

Millions are singing the praises of Kodol, the new "cure" which is making so many sick people well and weak persons strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and purifying the body, and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranford is a good example. She was a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia, which grew into the worst form. Finally she induced Dr. Kodol to take four bottles and I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. John X. Taylor.

A PROVISIONAL CAPITAL.

The Venezuelan Government is Now, From Necessity, of a Mov- able Variety.

GEN. CASTRO IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

He is Reported as Surrounded by Revolutionists Under Generals Matos Mendoza, Perolosa, and Riera. Near La Victoria, and Fighting in Progress.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Oct. 15.—The government of Venezuela, owing to the fear that the revolutionists might make a night attack on Caracas, and in view of the fact that Vice-President Vargas, General Matos, and other members of all the troops available—500 men—all reinforce President Castro, has been transferred to the "provisional capital" of Venezuela, in the Guaparo district, surrounding Los Teques, a small town or village being stipulated as the headquarters of the ministers.

Consequently, the seat of the government may be in a railroad car or in some other place, and the general public, The Venezuelan government was also activated in this matter by a desire not to reply to the questions of the foreign ministers, who have been daily asking for results as the result of injuries inflicted on the persons or property of citizens of the countries which they represent.

The latest news from La Victoria, where an important engagement began Monday morning between the army of President Castro and the forces of General Matos Mendoza, Perolosa and Riera states that President Castro was surrounded by revolutionists and that his position was critical.

CASTRO'S CRITICAL POSITION.

Everything indicates that the Venezuelan President is in a precarious situation.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The dispatches from Willemstad announcing the appearance of President Castro and the arrival of the revolutionists who were concentrated to the foreign office here, which had been expecting such news, but which has not yet received confirmatory dispatches. The position of President Castro, in referring to official intelligence, has been very precarious and his ultimate downfall is here considered probable. This is the reason why the German claims against Venezuela have not been presented to the foreign office. The government of Germany is waiting until a new administration is formed, capable of carrying out the terms of settlement.

BUILT BETTER THAN HE KNEW.

Seven Chicago Children Operated Upon by the Surgeon Brought from Vienna by Armour.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Before an audience that crowded the amphitheater at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Monday (Prof. Adolf Lorenz, of Vienna, conducted a lecture on the eye, heart and lungs, and the surgeon performed seven operations for congenital dislocation of the hip, or three more than he had ever treated in one day. All the patients were children, and all were suffering from an affliction which Prof. Lorenz came to America to treat in little Lotta Armour.

Patient after patient was rolled in, strapped, and carried from one to the other and proceeded with his operations with a deftness and dispatch that held the audience spellbound.

A WEALTHY POLICEMAN.

A Thrifty New York Officer Managed to Accumulate Many Shekels Before His Death.

New York, Oct. 15.—A fortune of over $100,000 was found, Tuesday, in the desk of Police Captain J. J. Donohue, at his desk in the station house, where he dropped dead last week. The sum of $100,000 in cash was found in a small safe box, and a gold and diamond jewelry valued at $15,000, including a solitaire ring worth $1,500, in United States Sted, $1,000 in gold mining stock, $15,000 in Metroopolitan Life Insurance Co., and five life insurance policies of $5,000 each. The discovery of the treasure was a complete surprise, the captain having been thought to be worth about $75,000 in other property.

WENT DOWN IN DEEP WATER.

A Whaleback Barge Sunk in Deep Water in Lake Superior—The Crew All Saved.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 15.—Whaleback barge 129, owned by the United States Steel corporation, was sunk by collision with her steamer, the Minotaur, in the gulf on Lake Superior Sunday afternoon.

The crew were all rescued by the steamer Andes, which reached here early Tuesday morning. The whaleback went down in deep water and is a total loss.

Senators Re-Elected.

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 15.—The legislature, Tuesday, re-elected W. E. Dill, Vermont United States senator.

THE STRIKE MAY SOON END.

The Presidents of the Coal Carrying Roads propose a Commission of Five to Adjust Differences.

Washington, Oct. 14.—By authority of Mr. J. P. Morgan, who, with his partner, Robert Bacon, and Secretary Root, were in conference with President Roosevelt at the temporary white house, Monday night, for an hour and a half, a statement was given out by Secretary Cortelyou, in which the presidents of the coal-carrying railroads and mine operators propose a commission of five persons to adjust the differences and settle the coal strike in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania. The proposition is believed by the administration to be satisfactory to the miners, as it covers the proposition made by President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers' union, with additional conditions which it is believed the miners will accept.

While no official statement was made at the White House after the operators' statement was made public by Secretary Cortelyou, the opinion was expressed that the day is now open for a complete settlement of the strike, and that the mines would soon be in operation once more.

TWO WEEKS' STRIKE SETTLED.

The Strike of the New Orleans Street-Railway Men Brought to an End Peaceably.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—The strike of street railway employees which has effectively blocked traffic on all city lines for two weeks, was settled Sunday night at six o'clock by the union almost unanimously, accepting the terms of the committee of the employers.

Negotiations which began Saturday night continued until seven o'clock Sunday morning, when the executive board finally determined to submit the matter to a general meeting of the members.

The basis of settlement is that the men will go back to work in the morning at 20 cents and ten hours, with a minimum of 7½ hours a day, no discrimination to be made against any man in the union, and that many will be taken back as are needed for the operation of the company's lines.

The hitch Sunday morning was on the taking back of the men under charges, but the railway company finally concluded this, allowing the crews to decide the guilt of the men.

FELL DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

John L. Young, a Newspaper Man, Instantly Killed in Planters' Hotel, St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—John L. Young, a writer for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was instantly killed in an elevator at the Planters' hotel Tuesday night.

The elevator had ascended to the third floor, and Mr. Young, in alighting, according to the conductor, missed his footing and fell backward. The police report says the accident was caused by the sudden start of the elevator from the shaft, a distance of 40 feet, and was picked up dead. The statement given out by the hotel management is that Young tripped in alighting from the elevator and sustained a fracture of the skull by striking his head against the cage.

FOUNDED IN LAKE ERIE.

The Steamer C. B. Lockwood Goes Down at Ashtabula, O.—A Boat's Crew Missing.

Ashtabula, O., Oct. 13.—The wooden steamer C. B. Lockwood founded in a storm about 15 miles off this port Monday night. The captain and crew succeeded in launching two boats just before the steamer sank. One of the boats, containing the captain, was picked up near the harbor Tuesday morning. The other boat has not yet been heard from. Tugs and life savers are searching for the missing boat which contained ten members of the crew.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—Three masked men held up Burlington train No. 41, the Pacific express, four miles out of Lincoln, shortly before two o'clock Saturday morning. They used explosives on the express car, shattering it, and, after wrecking the car, rifled it of its contents, securing $400.

Train 41 reaches Lincoln at 12:55 a. m. and leaves for the northwest ten minutes later. It was a few minutes past Saturday morning when the train, to a grinding halt, burst into a spray quickly into the cab, covering Claryburg and his frenemy with revolvers. They lost no time in giving their orders and were just as promptly obeyed. The express car was cut in two, and the train was held in balance by the robbers. They found the door locked and, after commanding Messenger William Lupton to open it, and getting no response, fired two or three shots into the car.

The heavy charge of dynamite on the safe literally tore it to pieces. Fourteen packages, said to contain a hundred dollars each, were taken, together with other valuable articles.

The two men who were in the car politely had the trainmen good morning, jumped from the car and disappeared in the darkness. The passengers were not molested, nor were the trainmen asked for their belongings.

The robbers were cool, talkative and apparently experts. The whole job occupied scarcely an hour. The train was run back to Lincoln, the wrecked car was taken out and at four o'clock Saturday morning the train resumed the journey, the original crew going out with it.

Following it was an engine carrying Chief-of-Police Houghland, Detective Malone and his two bloodhounds and three police officers.

BLOODHOUNDS ON THE TRAIL.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—The man hunt in southeastern Nebraska lagged behind the search for the men who held up the Burlington train near Lincoln early Saturday morning, but the trail was hot.

Chase and reward were offered, and the $10,000 offered for the apprehension of the robbers was increased to $15,000.

The New Voice is universally conceded the strongest, bravest and ablest temperance periodical the world has ever known. Every minister of the Gospel of Christ should place it side by side with his church paper, for is not the liquor traffic the greatest foe to the cause of Christ that exists on earth?

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," has just commenced a new serial in the New Voice, entitled "The Narrow Gate," which gives great promise of being as strong as "In His Steps." After reading the paper a short time you will wonder how you ever did without it.

By special arrangement the editor of this department is allowed to receive subscriptions for a short time at $1 a year. You can leave your order at the Bee office or direct to Box 38, Madisonville, Ky. The cash must always accompany the order.

Doses of alcohol which correspond to a glass of wine or a pint of German beer are sufficient to paralyze, retard or disturb all the central cerebral functions.—August Forcl, M. D.

Mrs. Carrie A. Lehman, representative of the Central Howard Association for the state of Kentucky, gave an exceedingly interesting address at Madisonville, last Thursday evening.

The Association is named by John Howard, the great English philanthropist, and has its headquarters in the city of Chicago. The object of the Association is first "To awaken public sentiment in behalf of the worthy ex-prisoners," and also seeks to improve the conditions of prison life, to aid the ex-convict in securing honorable employment and making a new start in the world, and as far as possible, to see that women prisoners are protected from improper and indecent treatment from indecent officers of the law.

Mrs. Lehman gave a most effective account of the work accomplished by the association. She related many personal incidents showing not only the brutality of some of the officers, but also the great temptations to which all prisoners are subjected.

She has visited hundreds of jails and prisons and was constrained to say that it would be difficult to find a jail where less attention was given in its construction to the moral needs of its inmates, than the plan on which the jail in Hopkins county had been built.

Mrs. Lehman is a very earnest speaker and impresses you at once with her sincerity and her consecration to the work in which she is engaged.

Science has established that alcohol destroys first and most those parts which are most delicate and most recently developed. These are those wonderfully delicate brain cells upon whose proper formation the difference between men and beasts chiefly depends.—Dr. Franz Schonberger, Berlin, Germany.

At the Nebraska W. C. T. U. State Convention recently held, Mrs. Matilda B. Carse, President of the Board of Temple Trustees, was present and gave an address in behalf of the Woman's Temple. On rising to speak she was greeted with applause and the Chautauqua salute. The Nebraska W. C. T. U. has always been loyal to Mrs. Carse and the Temple.

That the tobacco habit should be taken up early in youth, with the nervous system in perfect condition, and a disease deliberately invited that makes the highest sense of comfort impossible except drawn through a cigar—that such a habit should be deliberately formed when there is not the least sense of any want for its soothing effects, is a natural anomaly. No tobacco user ever has the supreme use of his brain.—E. H. Dewey, M. D.

The wine glass is the fell destroyer of the earth today. Nothing in manhood or womanhood is so beautiful to escape its polluting and devastating hand. Compared to its desolation, the lives lost in the Spanish-American war are as nothing.

Honors for E. B. Bouldin.

Lexington Herald. The Press Congress of Kentucky University Publishing Company held its regular semi-annual meeting in Morrison Ceaseal, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. President Russell presided. Mr. J. C. Ogden, who was manager of the Transylvanian last year made his annual report.

The election of the staff of the Transylvanian for the current year resulted as follows:

E. B. Bouldin, editor-in-chief; J. C. Ogden, manager; D. B. Goode, alumni editor; Miss Tillie Nichols and John T. Vance, Jr. local editors; Miss Claire Phillips, exchange editor. Each of ten six literary Societies had representatives.

Vendome Stock Company.

The Vendome Stock Company of Nashville will play at Temple theatre the night of Oct. 28. This company is greater and grander than ever and will produce one of the best plays ever presented to the Easter public. Prices, 25, 50 and 75 cents. Secure your seat early as there will be a scramble for seats on show night.

The St. Bernard meat shop is undergoing repairs. A new shed is being built out front.

I have had occasion to use your Black-Dragnet Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I heartily recommend it to all who have stock.

J. B. BESLER, St. Louis, Mo.

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cured by food. When your stock and poultry are sick, give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock foods. Unload the bowels and stir up the torpid blood, and the medicine will do the rest. It is impossible to cure it. Black-Dragnet Stock and Poultry Medicine unclogs the bowels and purges the torpid liver. It cures every disease that can be taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Dragnet Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay you many ten times over. How good better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It sold for 25 cents a can and now bids 50 cents and more as people out of the smallest amount of food consumed.

Buy a can from your dealer.

"Modern society has become too much like a pie. The upper crust is soggy with beer, but the middle of the pie has been quite decent and wholesome. God save us if the middle-class American mother becomes a drunkard.

The woman who drinks as well as the man, is a most dangerous member of the community. So far as anyone can see, this tragedy would not have occurred if it had not been for the presence of these women in the saloon.

The wine glass is the fell destroyer of the earth today. Nothing in manhood or womanhood is so beautiful to escape its polluting and devastating hand. Compared to its desolation, the lives lost in the Spanish-American war are as nothing.

GREAT ISLES OF THE NORTH.

Canada's Title to Those in the Arctic Waters is a Matter of Serious Doubt.

Canada's title to the immense island areas in the arctic waters north and east of the mainland of North America has been called in question. These areas contain the precious and other metals, and some of them may yet prove as valuable as the Yukon itself.

There are hundreds of islands, some very large, in Greenland and Iceland, and the San Francisco Bulletin, one of them, Baffin Land, is some 1,100 miles in length and 200 miles across at its widest part. Baffin Land lies at the head of the Hudson Bay and extends from that enormous and almost unexpected section of Canada which is Labrador by Hudson strait.

There are large islands in the strait itself, between Baffin Land and the mainland, and in the northern part of Hudson Bay, between the main land and Labrador. The rest of the islands are contiguous to northern Canada in the Arctic ocean.

The Arctic waters are frequented by American whalers, many of whom have established permanent fishery stations far apart in various directions. The question of sending Canadian officials into these unorganized parts to form them into provincial districts of Canada and exercise royal jurisdiction over them has been frequently mooted of late years and may be shortly carried into effect.

Attention was called to the subject by Mr. G. O. Okill, of the surveying convention. A recommendation was adopted to memorialize the Dominion government to take formal possession of the unorganized country on behalf of Great Britain. It was believed that the islands and archipelago north of Canada in the Arctic ocean were known to possess considerable undeveloped mineral wealth and might be claimed by some other power.

THE LONDON TWANG.

It is Much More Common Among the Young Than Among the Older Englishmen.

Among the evils of the world which the English tell us about, the most difficult to even think of is that painful and inexplicable mystery, the cockney twang. But it is a remarkable fact that the well-known cockney habit of pronouncing a's and i's is much more common among the young than it is among the aged. While among the veterans of London it is hardly known at all, says the London Globe. One can talk to the average London workingman of 60 or 70 without detecting the least trace of the Cockney twang, indeed, the old London workingman talks very often in the grand style with a fine dignity of rolling syllables and a singularly clear enunciation, and this might suggest the twang is nothing but among the young it is obvious in every word they utter. Precisely the same may be said of the South London accent it is not in the suburban regions but in the slums and damps that we detect the twang. From this it would seem that the twang and the accent are both of recent growth and, by the same token, that the present board schools are preparing to arrest the twang.

Mr. Samuel Phillips experienced trouble with his wife, who clipped his "would" into "ud," and occasionally said "cos" where he intended to say "because." But he never spoke of a "pig-tail" or a "sailor's valentine." The origin of this modern twang is a matter difficult to determine, the great thing is to arrest its growth before it becomes universal.

Foolishness to a Scorn.

It has been discovered that the great city of London rests on a foundation of skeletons—hundreds of thousands of skeletons that extend east and west, north and south, from boundary to boundary of the world's greatest city and beyond. There they lie compressed into a compact mass by the superimposed clay, gravel, sand and surface structures. These skeletons were once the framework of human beings—beings that were the most hideous multitudinous animals known as sponges. Many thousands of years ago, when the great sea ebbed and flowed where London now stands, these metazoan organisms, these sponges, crawled over the land, their thousands of canals, lived and died, and their unconscious part in the great plan of evolution. Now the life is gone, the cells are crushed, the canals are closed, and only the frames of flint, compressed into a homogeneous mass, remain.—Science.

Lost City Located.

The Lost City, the most ancient city, Maccus, which was reported as having 20,000 inhabitants in 1900, was discovered by the labors of Thomas Clithero, of Portage, Wis., was the greatest city in all Indian history, so far as is known. Its history is concerned, and the descriptions of the Jesuits in the course of the seventeenth century, closing with Marquette and Joliet in 1673, are said to have been verified.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

The condition of conductor Sam Ingram is not much improved. He is having quite a serious time on account of the accident received at Hopkinsville. The H. D. boys should go to see him and see if they can not be of some assistance.

Supt. J. W. Logden was in the city for several hours Saturday. He says business was never better and is constantly increasing on this division. Mr. Logden thinks business will be much heavier than usual this winter.

Dispatcher Griffin says he will make some young lady a good husband if he can find some girl who is willing to be a railroad man's wife.

Copier McKeown is very anxious to get acquainted with a certain young lady in the city, but the fates have forbidden thus far.

There were six sections of No. 67 the other night and the prospect is good for more.

Another one of the railroad boys will be married the 22 of this month. Guess who it is?

We are sorry to hear of operator Given's lossing out at Madisonville. That ham at Nashville is always getting some one in trouble.

No more smoking on sleepers goes on the Vandalia lines. If a passenger wants to smoke he must hie himself to the buffet car to enjoy his perfecto. The road holds that smoking in sleepers is bad from a sanitary point of view, and takes up too much valuable space. The buffet cars will be provided with wicker chairs and every convenience for the smoking fraternity.

Mr. J. W. Hamby, of the Henderson division has been engineer on the E. & G. several days this week during the absence of Capt. Hampton, who was then indisposed. Mr. Hamby was the first fireman on the E. & G. road many years ago.

It is reported that the Lexington & Eastern Railroad will be extended from Jackson to Letcher county, about forty-five miles, to open up coal fields. J. R. Barr is chief engineer, Lexington, Ky.

The Knoxville, Lafollette & Jellico Railroad has filed an amendment to its charter in order to build a branch line in Anderson county to Oliver Springs.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has purchased the Harriman & Northeastern, and will extend it about twenty miles to connect with the Knoxville, Lafollette & Jellico Railroad.

The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway is reported to be considering plans to build a belt railway at Chattanooga.

Mrs. Dixon, a young lady from the St. Louis division is now working as night operator at Henderson.

Mrs. Ira Shane, who was the wife of operator Tom Shane, of the I. C., has written a charming story of railroad life in this issue of the "Cosmopolitan," entitled "How No. 4. was Saved."

The scene is laid on the I. C. between Jackson, Tenn., and Water Valley, Miss. The story is interesting and fascinating and the railroad boys should secure this number of the Cosmopolitan and read it.

Operator Larkin is holding down the day office at Madisonville.

Ask Copier McKeown if he ever fell off a wheel going up hill.

Dispatcher Jno. Deveny went to Evansville Sunday to visit home folks.

Conductor Shelton was out at church Sunday night and there was room for several more of the boys.

There are several tents and camping outfits across the track opposite the Arboretum. We understand they are civil engineers in the employ of the L. & N. and are making a survey with the intention of lowering the grades along the line.

The Illinois Central railroad has been sued for $49,000 damages for injuries to several people who foolishly walked upon a long railroad bridge at Dawson Springs last summer and were overtaken by a fast freight. The party that took this desperate risk were excursionists who had come on a special train, run by the Illinois Central for the pleasure of Paducah employees who desired a day's outing at the Springs.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad has awarded contract for construction of the proposed North Alabama railroad, to begin work at once. It will open up valuable coal fields in its 32 miles length. The contract price is said to be about $750,000.

The National Railroad of Mexico, of which Mr. J. G. Metcalfe, formerly general manager of the Louisville & Nashville, is now the president, has adjusted the wages of its engineers and conductors by an average advance of 15 percent. The basis of the request for advance was that the silver had so depreciated in Mexico that living was much higher and the men needed the advance.

There is some trouble yet unsettled with the firemen, but trains are running.

It is said there is a great demand for section men competent to fill the position of section foremen. Men of better qualifications than formerly are needed because of the use of larger locomotives, increased speed, etc.

The news that a coal trust is being organized in England sends an extra shiver down the spine of the man who has a big yawning furnace in the cellar of his home.

Judging from his rasping views on the management of the coal trust, it is a safe guess that Uncle Russell Sage hasn't got his winter's supply of coal in yet.

SHE WAS SO ARROGANT.

Said she was "One of the Director's Wives" and the Little Conductor Got Eyes.

She boarded the car at Fourteenth street and disposed her ample person over at least two seats; then she stared haughtily at those who needed the car bed any split instant to do so.

Nearly all the passengers read the challenge aright, and their amazement increased with growing indifference. This was simply maddening to the imitation "grande dame." She would show those upstarts with whom they had the honor of riding.

"Conductor, I called," said me of Twenty-ninth street."

The keen-looking little Irishman who wore the company's uniform promised to do so.

"And don't you carry me past it, either," she said to the driver. "If you do, I'll make trouble for you."

The conductor took the task of pacifying his confidence, says the New York Times, through the medium of an all-embracing smile.

"As you please," she continued, "and as you like." She continued, "For I'll have you understand I've got something to say about this road. I'm one of the director's wives."

"Was of his wives, did she say?" asked the conductor, as he reached the back platform. "Why, I didn't think they allowed that any more even in Utah."

Cross and Sweetbread Salad.

After parboiling the sweetbread, remove skin, break into small pieces, mix with mayonnaise dressing and juice before serving stir through a few drops of vinegar and add a few dashes of Worcestershire sauce. Make a bed of green peas, which have been thoroughly cooked. Serve in usual way.—Washington Star.

Cold Winter Cakes.

Two eggs beaten very light, one pint cold water, one teacupful flour enough to make a thin batter which make a thoroughly in small tins filled half a hot oven half an hour. To be eaten with butter.—Good Housekeeping.

DON'T DELAY.

BLUE G. BARD.

Bring us 'taters, sweet or Irish,
Bring us chickens young or old,
Bring us eggs, pork or middling,
Bring us silver, bring us gold.

Bring us copper, bring us greenback,
Bring us fiddler, lard or flour,
Anything to stay our hunger
For the space of one short hour.

For the larder is getting empty
And the cash is getting low,
Our paper bills are almost due
And the paper's got to go.

Our store bill must be settled
And the kids must go to school,
Our pants are quite threadbare
And the weather is getting cool.

So pay for your subscription,
Come, take us by surprise,
Gain our praises here below
And a mansion in the skies.

We'll raise our voice and howl for you
And sing your praises long,
If you will rustle in the cash
And bring it good and strong.

The decision of the French government that the whole northern part of Martinique shall be vacated is late but sensible.

Having failed to persuade Chamberlain to cough up, the Boer generals may as well abandon all attempts on Uncle Russell Sage.
